UNCG's MPA Program Recruiting Veterans — 2016 class

UNC's MPA (Master of Public Affairs) program is flexible, with evening and Saturday courses that can be completed in under two years if full-time, though part-time students who work are also encouraged to apply. Your dedication to public service, the discipline you have exercised in military service, and your UNCG undergraduate degree will prepare you well to enter the graduate program, regardless of your major.

The strong points of our program are that UNCG's MPA is nationally accredited, recognized for its strong internship and job placement success, and considered by our graduates and students to have a strong, supportive alumni network in nonprofit and local governments in the region. Check us out! www.uncg.edu/uncmpa.

If you have questions, or would like to meet with me to discuss your career or educational options, please email me at rhdehoog@uncg.edu.
